Here's an interesting Web site to check out!

This site was launched in 2012 to catalog the strange, offbeat and lesser-known aspects of military history — all the stuff that really fascinates us. Since then, they've published more than 500 articles from dozens of noted historians and authors, built a thriving community of 170,000 Twitter followers and have grown into a powerful influencer for all things military history.

Presidents message

I am a little overwhelmed at ascending to the Presidency of our club. As Groucho Marks once said, "I refuse to join any club that would have me as a member," a humorous and philosophical statement that reflects on the paradox of seeking acceptance from others. It suggests that if an exclusive club would accept him, it would not have high standards. In 1984 I joined the OMSS, over 41 years ago now, and the club accepted me without reservations.

I have now climbed to the heights of power and will attempt to do the very best job I can. I have no grand plan but want to turn over to the next President a financially strong and vibrant club. It will take your help to do that but I have always been impressed by the way our members have stepped up to the challenge.

I look forward to my year as President and want to give a shout out to our previous President and Executive who have kept the ship humming along. I can not do this without all of you.

Have a good holiday season and best for 2026.

David Dorward, OMSS President

Calendar news;

The Calendar Committee proudly announces that the 2026 OMSS calendar will be available for distribution at Toronto's January meeting. As always, it is critically important that you claim yours in a timely manner to save the club the postage costs. If you live near someone who did not attend, it would be a wonderful thing to deliver their copy, also saving postage.

The Calendar Committee is always looking for new recruits for next year's issue! We'll find you a job, guaranteed.

Editor

Toronto Chapter's December Meeting — OMSS Annual General Meeting and Christmas Luncheon

It was certainly a good turnout for the last meeting of 2025. The Annual General meeting was held where the outgoing president, Duncan Johnstone reviewed the past year with his final speech. That was followed-up up with a presentation by Gary Lenius on the club's finances which continue to be solid. A vote was held to elect the 2026 executive committee which also passed. Thank you to those that stepped up to help out the Society. Following the AGM, the annual Christmas luncheon was held with over 35 members and their better halves in attendance who enjoyed a Swiss Chalet Christmas dinner. Thanks to Jeff Duncan's efforts, a few donated gifts were raffled off in addition to a couple of gift cards funded by the proceeds from the club table sales.

It was wonderful to see so many members travel from far and wide for the AGM and luncheon.

As part of the celebration, Duncan Johnstone and Gary Lenius presented the Bryan Gibbons award to Mike Chrus. Mike can always be relied upon to lend a hand, whether it is setting up for the monthly meetings and On Parade to receiving and storing shipments for out of town vendors who courier items in advance of On Parade. Well deserved and congratulations to Mike.

Ottawa Chapter's December Meeting

Thanks to Bob Thompson for submitting this report

The Show & Tell Topic for our December 30th meeting was "Christmas Gifts".

It appears that toy soldier collectors don't often receive toy soldiers as Christmas presents (unless they are under 8 years old). However, we had some great Christmas related presentations regarding toy soldier treasures from Christmases past. Other presentations included Bob showing off some of his recent acquisitions for his sketchy "I Love a Woman in Uniform" collection, and Julian's upgraded homemade 1/6 scale building that he introduced last month. Steve Hammond stole the show with his work on scratch building a massive machine used on the production line for the construction of German Tiger 1 tanks. (I'm going to force Steve to submit an article in the next newsletter with a brief description of his project, with photos.)

Discussions of club matters included planning requirements for the tentative February 28 OMSS Ottawa Toy Soldier Show at the Kanata Legion.

That's different—War Gaming "The Gingerbread Gang" found in a collectibles shop in Brockville

Bob showed off his Christmas presents to himself. Women Legionnaires and "Bess" of the 95th Rifles by Thomas Gunn

Items bought at the December meeting included some great deals on King & Country sets

South Carolina Military Miniature Society show

Thanks to Norm Cuthbert for submitting this story

After much anticipation the big day arrived, the South Carolina Military Miniature Society show. Saturday morning November 15 my family and I rose at six in the morning, got ready, met a friend in the club and on the road at seven.

After a two hour drive we arrived at the venue in a large room in the Confederate Museum. We quickly unloaded to can and got all my sales material set up on my table and items on the tables set aside for the competition. Trading was brisk and there were so many fun things up for sale. I managed to pick up 45 figures and was quite pleased.

Half way through to afternoon the plaques for the competition winners were placed on the tables in front of the winning entries. I was really happy to have won two of the five winning plaques! One for Civilian and one for Vignette.

The day is a great one for families. The State Museum with a working model of the Hunley submarine, a section of Fort Moultrie and so much more, the Planetarium, huge gift store and Confederate museum and Relic Room are all attached in the same location.

Come on down Y'all.

Passages

Joe Wallis - Although Joe was not a member of the OMSS, many members had the opportunity to meet Joe over the years at various shows, or read one of his books. He was a noted American author on toy soldiers and a wealth of information on the hobby. Joe also contributed numerous articles in Old Toy Soldier magazine and several books on Wm. Britains. He will be missed.

OMSS Zoom Meeting for December

Thanks to Bob Thompson for submitting this report

12 attendees (6 Ottawa, 2 Toronto, 2 Quebec, 1 Montreal, 1 Newfoundland)

The Zoom meeting consisted of some good discussions, and lots of photo sharing.

Bob showed his usual humour, wow, & toy soldier photos collected from Facebook over the month (as well as recent acquisitions);

Brendan joined us, recently back from his overseas deployment, and showed us some great photos from his time in Latvia.

Johnathon from Newfoundland joined us for the first time, and showed us some interesting toy soldier photos.

A good time was had by all.

Toy Soldier Video Meetings

Thanks to Bob Thompson for submitting this report

Although I would argue that nothing replaces the personal enjoyment of attending a physical meeting of like-minded toy soldier enthusiasts ... participating in a video meeting offers a viable alternative. Video meetings may even offer some advantages over physical meetings ... with the ability to share stories, photos, and exchange toy soldier related information from enthusiasts across the country and around the world.

For a variety of reasons, the option to attend a physical meeting is often not possible. Time constraints, bad weather, travel distance, poor health, or just plain inconvenience can rule out the luxury of attending a physical Toy Soldier meeting.

I recommend everyone should give these video meetings a try ... they are all fun, enjoyable, and you will no doubt learn many things you didn't know about our amazing hobby ... all from the comfort of your own home.

The technological requirements for participating in these meetings are both simple and free. All can be accessed easily from a smartphone (iPhone or Android), a tablet, or a laptop or desktop computer. (Our monthly OMSS Zoom meetings are hosted and run entirely from an iPhone.)

We are fortunate to have access to 3 distinctly different monthly video meetings on Toy Soldier related topics:

OMSS Zoom Meeting – held on the 3rd Tuesday of every month at 7pm ... hosted by Bob Thompson from Ottawa.

BMSS Zoom Meeting – scheduled for the 3rd Friday of every month at 7pm UK time (2pm Toronto time) ... hosted by James Opie from England. The BMSS video meetings are open to all OMSS members.

International Toy soldier Club Video Meeting – alternating between either a Friday or Saturday once a month at 7pm UK time (2pm Toronto time) - hosted by Andrew Stevenson of Replica Miniatures from England.

Take the time to arrange a test run using the technology and give a video meeting a try!

Help keep your membership costs low!
